About Clearway School

Clearway School is a small, private special education school in Newton, Massachusetts, where students with learning disabilities achieve academic and personal success. Clearway has an average of 39 students at any one time who come from eastern Massachusetts to learn in a small, individualized setting.

Clearway School is dedicated to providing quality, specialized instruction to students with learning disabilities. Clearway celebrates the diversity of the individual and the many paths to success, welcoming students who may have had difficult prior experiences in school and help them to re-engage in the exploration of their academic, artistic, social, vocational, and civic passions. Our goal is to build independent skills through small group, multi-sensory instruction that provides true access to the general curriculum. Our collaborative team approach challenges students to identify and commit to individual goals integrated across the community. Communication with families, sending school districts, and collateral service providers is essential to this approach. Clearway School honors the individual learning style of each student and cultivates respect for self, others, and the environment. Clearway provides extensive transitional support for students as they successfully return to public schools or pursue post-secondary options, including college, with a better understanding of themselves and their responsibilities.

50th Anniversary Celebration

On May 8, 2025, Clearway supporters including parents, alumni, staff, board members and community supporters will come together to celebrate the incredible successes of Clearway over the past 50 years. The evening will include heavy hors d'oeuvres, a cocktail reception, a silent auction and the presentation of Special Recognition Awards.

Your Donation at Work

Since 1975, Clearway School has promoted academic and personal success for more than 1,000 students from eastern Massachusetts. Clearway's commitment to individualized learning works, and we couldn't do it without the support of the community. Your donation will help Clearway continue to provide exceptional educational opportunities and help students succeed for years to come.

Thank You For Your Consideration.
